Fortune Hunter Ruby Ayres (Continued From Yesterday.)

One of the maids crossing the hall glanced at him curiously,

"Oh, aren't you feeling well, sir! she asked, in concern.

The Fortune Hunter laughed "It's nothing-I've got a beastly headache. I wonder if you'd take this letter to the post for me?" "Certainly, sir-and can't I get ou anything, sir?" He shook his head

"Good lord, no! Thanks all the same, and . . . just post that letter yourself, will you?" "Yes, sir." The girl went straight out and across the garden. Like the other malds in the house, she admired the Fortune Hunter immensely, and though they knew but little of his story, they all imagined a good deal, and found it very romantic. She had turned out into the road

Tommy overtook her. "Hulio! Going to the post-here, I'll take it!" And, before she could protest, he had snatched the letter towards the letter-box when

"Mr. Smith asked me to be sure and post it myself," she protested angrily; she did not like Tommy. angrily; she did not like Tommy, and the boy knew it, which was partly why he had taken the letter; he loved annoying people.

"Mr. Smith can trust me quite as well as he can trust you," was the retort. "I'll tell him if you like." The girl turned indignantly away, and Tommy glanced down at the envelope in his hand. "Miss Irenie Claver—Savoy Hotel,

For a moment his thin face grew blank with amazement, then the old cunning look crept into his eyes as he thrust the letter into is pocket and turned back to the his pocket and turned back to the house.

He saw his sister at the end of the garden standing looking out across the river, and with no thought of the pain he was about to inflict upon her, only his own triumphant knowledge that he had discovered something to the discredit of the Fortune Hunter, he limped after her. imped after her.

Anne heard his step on the soft grass and turned eagerly, thinking it might be the Fortune Hunter; in her heart she was longing to see him alone and drive away the vague shadow that had fallen between them last night; this morning she was almost convinced that t had never really existed save in her own imagination, and she was only too willing and eager to make amends.

She looked bitterly disappointed when Tommy came eagerly up to her. "I thought," she began, then "Where is John?" she

Tommy hunched his narrow

"Goodness knows! But look here what I've got." He pulled the letter from his pocket and held it to her. "John gave this to Ethel o post, and she gave it to me." to post, and she gave it to me. It was characteristic of Tommy that he never told quite all the truth about anything. "He didn't mean me to see it, or you either, I'll bes!" He peered down at the adbeh!" He peered down at the address on the letter as Anne tried to take it from him; he read it aloud triumphantly: "'Miss Irenie Claver, Savoy Hotel, London.' Who is she, Sis? Do you know her?' He glanced up at Anne's white face and was suddenly silent. "Oh, I say! Is this what all the rot's about?' he broke out again presently. "Of course, I knew something was wrong, but I never thought he was such a mean, low-down..."

"How dare you?" she panted;
"How dare you? Whatever John does is right. How dare you take his letter and bring it to me? You ought to be ashamed!"
Tommy looked aghast.
"Why. I thought—" he began helplessly; then: "What are you going to do with the letter?" he saked blankly.

going to do with the letter?" he asked blankly.

Anne turned away without answering. In spite of her loyal defense of the Furtune Hunter, she fense of the Fortune Hunter, sne was sick with dread and jealousy; but she went across the garden and out into the road, never stopping or looking back till the letter was safely posted.

Then all at once her courage seemed to give way; she trembled so that she could hardly walk, and the sunny road swam before her

He had sworn that he did not know who Irenie was, and now he had written to her—she had seen the letter with her own eyes.

Why had she posted it? She the letter with her own eyes.
Why had she posted it? She wished she had kept it back, and yet, what would have been the use?
Nothing but his own will and desire could make the man she loved true to her. All the tears and upbraidings in the world could not restore her beautiful faith in him.
He should not know that she cared. She would not let him know that the letter had ever fallen into that the letter had ever fallen into her hands. She stayed away from the house until she felt she could the house until she fell she could trust herself to go back as if nothing had happened, but if seemed as if the shalow of foreboding deepened when she reached the gate and found her uncle standing there talking to Fernle.

They were in deep conversation.

They were in deep conversation, and did not see her until she was close beside them, and she wondered if it was her imagination that they both looked disturbed when she spoke.

"Good morning, Mr. Fernie."

Fernie turned and clumstly pulled

Fernie turned and clumsily pulled off his hat.

"Good morning, Miss Harding." She thought that he seemed to avoid her eyes, and then wondered again if that, too, were just imagination. She was upset and unstrung. Everything and everyone made her suspicious now that the first bitter shaft had been planted in her heart by the man she love? best in all the world.

(To be continued tomorrow.)

A long installment of "The Portune Hunter" will appear in the Magnine Section of The Sunday Herald.

THE GUMPS-Oh, Min!

"I stand for American boy-hood who build castles in the air and boats—and whose achievements will build the

The Boys' Daily Merald

Red Cross Helps

School Children

In Montenegro

In all of the foreign countries

where the Junior American Red Cross is seeking to make some permanent contribution to the happiness and well-being of the children, it is working along educational lines. That this assistance which the organization of the girls and boys of America is rendering to the schools overseas is bearing fruit is evidenced by reports constantly reaching national headquarters reaching national headquarters of the American Red Cross at These reports show that the pupils of the Danilovgrad gram-mar school of Montenegro, which is being aided by the Junior American Red Cross, have won the highest marks of any stu-dents in the Montenegrin school system. The work of those pu-pils shows the effect of proper food, sanitation and the after-

Juniors have given them.

Another instance is the case of a student graduated from the

Junior American Red Cross In-

Junior American Red Cross In-dustrial School at Danilovgrad to the government's trade school. This young man has been picked out by the trade school professors as being one of the most brilliant pupils they have encountered. He has made such a sulendid record that he such a splendid record that he has called attention to himself from the leaders in education throughout Montenegro, and the government is arranging it so that he will not have to take up a trade as was anticipated, but will go right into the Univer-sity of Belgrade for special Envels.

You write 'em! We print 'em! Shoot 'em in! Shoot 'em in! —EDITOR'S YELL.

Cock-cha-lunk Cha-lunk-cha-lee!

Cock-cha-lunk

Cha-lunk-cha-lee! Hi yo hippity yah Hullaballoo, ballee, ballaa!

AND YOU'RE JUST FEELING

AS FINE AS SILK

WHOOP- LA- LA!

Trinidad High School, Rah! Rah! Rah!

Trinidad High School, Trinidad, Colo.

-By Briggs.

which the influences

Washington.

Price Free With The Big Herald

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1921

Copyright 1921.

BoyScout Troop Guard of Honor To Dead Heroes

Troop 73, Boy Scouts of America, is a busy group of boys. Twice they have acted as guard of honor and escort to American hero dead. The boys have made a good record in filling this post.

They acted as guard of honor and escort to the body of First. Lieut. Henry C. Spangler who was killed in action in France. troop was led by Scoutmaster Paul

The boys also acted in that capacity in the funeral of Private Charles A. Jacobs. The funeral of Private Jacobs was one of the big gest events at the Government Printing Office, where he was formerly employed. High government officials and employes of the office attended. The Boy Scouts, the only boy organization in the line, led the marchers.

The Casual Mother.

mow is this for the casual mother? The other day a friend of the family met her and remarked: "I hear your daughter is married. What is her new name?" "T can't tell you," replied the mother, with a shrug." I was so annoyed when she How is this for the casual told me she was married I didn't even ask who the man was!"— Sydney Bulletin.

Washington boys are very for-tunate in having a Public Library like the one situated at Sev-enth and Massachusetts avenue. Here one can find books not only for pleasure, but also to help you in your studies.

No matter what subject you study at school you can get help from the books at the Public Library. If you want something his-torical, you can find no better place in the world for help than there. Historians of every age who have written books are in-dexed in the library and you will find that you can get many facts that will help you in your class room. Many times the teacher room. Many times the teacher will ask you to get some facts from books at the library. You do not have to take out books in or-der to get facts. There are reading tables on every floor that are open to you and it is up to you to take advantage of them. Go to

HOW TO START THE D AY WRONG.

AFTER YOU'VE BEEN ALL CLEANED AND DRESSED

GOT YOUR BOTTLE

FOR THE DAY AND YOU'VE

a Judge Brown Story Jalk By Judge Willis Brown

TOMORROW

A man was very hungry. He had been a day without food

He had just 35 cents.

He passed restaurants looking at the bill of fares pasted in the windows, seeking a place where he could get the most to eat for the least amount.

In one restaurant he read this sign:

FREE DINNER TOMORROW. We give the best meal for 35 cents. Those who pay today will be given a free meal tomorrow,

The man entered the restaurant and paid his last cent for a good meal which was to last him until tomorrow, when the dinner

The next day he strolled around after his free meal.

"What is your order today?" asked the waiter. "I want your free dinner," was the reply.

"We do not give a free dinner today," was the waiter's reply. "Yes you do, for your advertisement is in the window," replied the man.

"Show it to me," demanded the waiter.

The two repaired to the window and the man read the sign to the waiter.

"Pay today and free tomorrow."

"This is today, not tomorrow," said the waiter. "If you eat here you pay today."

"It will be the same tomorrow," replied the man.

"Certainly it will, tomorrow's free meal never arrives in this restaurant," was the waiter's laughing reply as the man dejectedly

TOMORROW never arrives. You never arrive at TOMORROW

You can find nothing TOMORROW.

"I'm sorry, but I'm going to be good TOMORROW." A boy said this.

He never was good TOMORROW. He was fooled like the man who expected a free dinner TO-MORROW.

"I'm going to work TOMORROW." Another boy said this.

I met him today and he told me he was going to start doing nething worth while TOMORROW.

He told me the same thing yesterday.

"One Million dollars to the man who will make me live TO-ORROW," pleaded the richest man in the world.

"If I could do this, you would live forever," replied the doctor. The TOMORROW folks are dead people walking about like

AND THEN YOUR MA SITS

PLAY WITH YOUR RATTLE

YOU UP AND LETS YOU

TOMORROW is the GHOST-LAND.
WHERE DO YOU LIVE?

FIRE PREVENTION COMMITTEE NAMED

Frank P. Leetch, representing the Board of Trade, has been appointed chair:nan of a committee appointed chairman of a committee to provide for observance of Fire Prevention Day, October 10, by the District Commissioners. Charles W. Darr, of the Cham-Benns, of the Underwriters' Asso-ciations; George S. Watson, fire chief, and L. V. Seib, fire marshal, were appointed members of the committee.

Gate Given to College.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Sept. 15.— Funds for a memorial gateway in honor of the late Beverley B. Munci the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association; W. Pierce Raynor, of the Kiwanis Club; C. P. Eeens, of the Underwriters' Association; Ralph W. Lee, of the Court &choes by Rudolph Perkins

Morning Judge!

GOOD AIM WITH BRICK COSTS $20.

Alberta Wheeler invited a few of her lady friends to her house for a wine party. No men were allowed After the wine had flowed a while Alberta got to spoofing a girl named Maggie Waters. Rosie Green. a guest, told Alberta to quit the omedy and get back in the house.

Alberta got sore at the interference and shied a brick at Rosie and then the doctors got busy with the peedle and thread. Then, it was testified, Alberta went after Janie Green, a sister of Rosie, and threw bricks at her, too. Janie was right on the job and Al-berta got a cute little cut in the jaw as a present from Rosie's sister. Everybody who saw the scrap said something different about It Lizzie Edwards, who was summoned as a witness, dld not know anything about it at first, although she was present. Questioned closely he Attorney James A. O'Shea she finally admitted that all hands were naving a good time.

Policeman Frye did not know anything about the scrap until Al-berta went to complain about be-ing cut by Janie. Then Janie spilled the beans about the fight with Rosie Judge Mattingly fined Alberta $20

Moodward & Lothrop

Open 9:15 A. M.

New York-WASHINGTON-Paris

An Unusual Collection of Remnants and Specials

Today Is Remnant Day

Remnant Day Merchandise is not returnable or exchangeable; not sent C. O. D. or on approval; mail or phone orders not accepted.

Friday Sale of Men's Hats and Furnishings

A very timely offering of about 50 Men's Sample Soft Felt Hats, in a number of good shapes of this season's modeling and in the preferred shade variations of browns, grays and tans. As they are sample hats, which the makers used to take orders from the trade, you know they are the very best quality hats you can get. Sizes 67/8, 7 and 71/8.

They are qualities that would ordinarily sell in regular stock at $6 and $7.

Sale Price, $3.35 Each

41 Men's Colored Silk Four-in-Hand Ties —Striped and figured patterns; good colors. 45c each; were $1.

68 Pieces Men's Lightweight Nature Color Balbriggan Underwear — Discontinu-line. Long sleeve shirts, sizes 34, 36, 38, 44, 46 and 48; short-sleeve shirts, sizes 34, and 48; ankle-length drawers, sizes 36, 38, 42, and 44 65c garment: were $1.50.

17 Suits Men's Special Quality Silk Poplin ajamas—White and a few plain colors; small and large sizes. $3.35 suit; were $7.50.

GI Men's Lightweight Fine Soft-finish White Cambrie Pajamas — Frog-trimmed; small, me-dium and large sizes. $1.95 each; were $3. 36 Men's Negligee Shirts—Mostly plain colors of blue, green and tan, with white cord stripe; sizes 14, 14%, 15 and 16%. $1.35 each; were $3.

Men's Hose-Special, 6 Pairs for $1.45-60 dozen pairs Men's Seamless Lisle Socks, fine gauge, evenly woven and double heels and toes increase durability. Black, navy and cordovan; sizes 9½ to 11½.

Men's Store, First Floor.

We place on sale today at a Special Low Price 50 New Street Hats, $4.75

Panne Velvet, Duvetyne, Embroidered Duve-tyne, Hatters Plush, Lyons Velvet

They are hats in the season's smartest new models—large, small and rolling brim effects and soft hats, also a few sports wear models.

Hats of elegant quality for the price, and hats that will appeal to those wanting the latest styles, in such new shades as—

Cherry, Tan, Navy,

Black combined with many colors. Also a small number of Plain-colored Felt Sports Hats, marked at the low price of $2.75, which would ordinarily be very much higher. Millinery Section, Third Floor.

50 Wool Jersey Coats Specially Priced $12.75

50 Wool Jersey Sports Coats for immediate wear. Made with popular tuxedo collar and set-in sleeves, in brown, beige, blue and heather mixtures. Sizes 32

Women's Coat Section, Third

450 Dozen Yards Valenciennes Laces Special. 60c Dozen . Yards

These laces are an exceptional value, and offer an excellent opportunity to buy what you'll need for Fall undergarments at a saving. In, round mesh and French Vals, from % to 1% inches wide. Mostly matched patterns, also seven different patterns in beading and edge combination.

Lace Section, First Floor.

Neckwear

3½ Dozen Organdy Ruffled Vestees—Some trimmed with lace and tucks, others rather plain, with embroidery collars. 50c each; were $1.00.

2 Dozen Mull Collars—Trimmed with lace and embroidery or em-broidered in black dots. 50c each; were $5c.

Neckwear Section, First Floor.

Cover-All Aprons, Specially Priced for Today, $1.45

A special lot of three dozen cover-all aprons, made of plain blue chambray, with long sleeves, V neck, adjustable belt and pockets; fastening at the back; sizes 40, 42 and 44. Special, $1.45 each. House Dress Section, Third

188 Pairs Women's Best Grade Pumps and Oxfords

All From $5.75 Were $8.50 to $16 Smart and stylish Pumps and Oxfords suitable for wear now and right on through the autumn and winter season. Sizes are incomplete, but nearly every one can be fitted in one style or another, and think what exceptional values are offered.

110 pairs Women's Brown Calfskin Brogue Oxfords, with the popular wing tip, military heels and Goodyear welt soles in the following sizes: 5½ and 8 AAA; 4, 4½ and 5 AA; 3, 2½, 4, 6, 7 and 8 B; 2½ to 7 C; 3, 3½, 4½, 5, 5½ and 6 D.

78 pairs Women's Black and Tan one and two-strap Pumps and Black and Brown Suede and Patent Leather Dress Oxfords. Some of our best-selling models. Sizes 4½, 5, 5½, 6 and 8 AAA; 4, 4½, 5, 5½, 6½, 7, 7½ and 8 AA; 3½, 4, 4½, 5, 5½ and 7 B; 2½, 2, 3½, 4, 4½, 5, 6 and 7 B; 2½, 2, 3½, 4, 4½, 5, 5½ and 7 C.

All of the Above Marked at $5.75 Pair

Women's Boudoir Slippers, Reduced to 45c Pair

A limited quantity of Quilted Silk and Straw Boudoir Slippers. The slik slippers have cotton linings and are trimmed with small bow; the straw slippers are lined with cloth and finished at the throat with small bow. Colorings include pink, blue, rose and lavender, and the sizes are 3. 7 and 5 only. The value is so unusual, however, that you might readily make use of a size other than your regular one when such a saving is possible.

Women's Shoe Section, Third Floor.

- AND THEN YOUR MA WHEN --- YOW- 00 !! BUT - THE DAY IS SOMETHING IS STICKING UTTERLY RUINED SO IT WON'T INTO YOUR FLESH